

Support for PUI Publication Costs

WV-INBRE provides funds for publication costs related to WV-INBRE supported research. WV-INBRE has allotted $25,000 to the Faculty Research Development Program to help primarily undergraduate institution (PUI) investigators whose research was/is supported by WV-INBRE defray the charges arising from publication of their WV-INBRE supported research projects. The research project need not be conducted in the year the manuscript is accepted, as publications often arise from work conducted in previous years, but the work must have been supported by one or more WV-INBRE Developmental and/or Equipment Awards. The accepted manuscript must acknowledge the support of NIH Grant P20GM103434 to the West Virginia INBRE, and the journal must be indexed by PubMed. Only one request per investigator per year will be considered.

If you wish to apply for a publication cost award, please contact Dr. Werner Geldenhuys (werner.geldenhuys@hsc.wvu.edu), Director of the WV-INBRE Faculty Research Development Program. In your request, please provide:

- (1) a letter requesting support to defray your publication charges with the name of the journal and title of your paper,
- (2) a copy of the accepted manuscript,
- (3) evidence that the paper has been accepted and
- (4) a copy of the invoice/email outlining the publication charges and how they should be paid.

If you have any questions about this program, please contact Dr. Geldenhuys.
